

The Arno Flood: November 4, 1966

Early morning November 4: flood rising, view from Bonciani Hotel

Flood is rising, midmorning; view toward train station (on left)

Emergency military trucks move in as water rises

Below our window; flood carries mud, oil slick, carts, etc.

Early morning view from hotel toward train station square; flood rising

Train station square at highest flood, evening of November 4

After the Flood, November 5

Cleaning up after the flood

Damaged Baptistry doors and fallen Ghiberti panels, Piazza San Giovanni

Statue of David and fountain, Piazza Signoria; Uffizi Gallery on right

Chuck, Sam, Brenda and Mike on Lungarno Acciaiuoli, by Uffizi Gallery; Arno River on right

Damage at Ponte Vecchio

Lungarno Acciaiuoli Street washed out; Continental Hotel on right

Brenda waits for the only train